

Dr. Ling Wang is a Professor in the Department of Radiology at Beijing Jishuitan Hospital, Capital Medical University, National Center for Orthopaedics, Beijing, China. He is the Director of the AI for Orthopedics Imaging Laboratory (AI4Oil) and the Deputy Director of Sarcopenia Research Center.

Dr. Wang started his radiology residency at Beijing Jishuitan Hospital, Beijing. He completed a three-year PhD project on bone imaging analysis and osteoporosis at Peking University. During the PhD period, he began a collaboration with Prof. Klaus Engelke at FAU, Germany on the QCT research for bone and muscle measurements. Dr. Wang's research focuses on osteoporosis, sarcopenia, and musculoskeletal imaging. He has more than 100 original international peer-reviewed publications. His work has been recognized by awards from the European Calcified Tissue Society East-meets-West Award (2017, 2020). He also received the European School of Radiology (ESOR) 2020 Research Bracco Fellowship Grant. Dr. Wang is now a group member of the WHO policy brief of Reimagining Health Management Information Systems to Detect Osteoporosis and Fracture Risk and a member of the ECTS Global Outreach Committee.

“ I would like to express my sincere gratitude for being selected for the ISS Founders' editorial fellowship, which is a great honor and an important milestone in my academic career. As a leading journal in the field of musculoskeletal radiology, Skeletal Radiology provides a valuable opportunity for me to learn from its professional editorial team and to further refine my skills in peer review and scholarly editing. I look forward to contributing to the advancement of high-quality scientific communication, collaborative innovation, and promoting standardized practices within the global musculoskeletal radiology community.”